Bio

I'm a final year computer science student in RMIT, graduating at the end of this year. My plan is to do a gap year after I graduate and backpack around Europe, then I'll return to Melbourne and look for a software development job. I have done an internship at ANZ where I learned about their banking software, as well as some IT related jobs at my mum's clinic. I enjoy programming and developing websites/apps, and in my spare time I do Brazillian Jiu Jitsu and cycling.
